CSDA's Company Accreditation Program is a company audit program specifically for concrete cutting and GPR contractors. Developed by CSDA's Accreditation Committee, the program provides owners, architects, engineers, general contractors and government officials with a valuable prequalification tool, improves the knowledge and skills of concrete cutting and GPR contractors and enhances public image.

Who is eligible for Accreditation?

A company must meet the following criteria to achieve accreditation:

- Meet the basic safety and insurance requirements of the industry
- Undertake sound operational and financial best practices
- Provide evidence it has took part in basic training or certification programs to better its employees and the company as a whole
- Successfully pass a written application review
- Must be a current CSDA member

Who decides if my application is accepted?

CSDA uses an independent third-party law firm to conduct reviews and audits of submitted application. The information provided on your application is confidential and is not shared with CSDA or any of its members. CSDA only receives notification when an application has been approved.

How long does it take to complete the application?

If you have existing policies and procedures in place, the application will take approximately 2-6 hours to complete. If not, it will take longer.

What are the benefits of becoming an Accredited Company?

CSDA Accredited Companies are marketed and promoted to specifiers in the concrete renovation industry, including architects, engineers, general contractors and government agencies. Your accreditation is a valuable prequalification tool that sets you apart from the competition and in many cases, also fulfills other job certification requirements.

What is the cost and how long does my Accreditation last?

The application fee is $300 and your accreditation is good for a period of two years. You will be eligible for a renewal upon submitting your renewal paperwork and $100 renewal fee payment.
